

THE UNITED COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS OF AMERICA ARE HOLDING INITIATION

Grand Lodge Officers of Ohio Present Together With Many Knights of the Grip From All Over the District

Elegant Banquet Will be Served This Evening at Assembly Hall Followed by a Hop With Music by Marsh's Orchestra—Minstrel Entertainment, March 26.

The Knights of the Grip are very much in evidence in Newark today. For some time past the members of Newark Council, No. 274, of this city, have been making arrangements for a big meeting and Saturday, March 19, was set as the time for holding it. Newark has always been the center point for the traveling men in this district ever since their organization, and for this reason the membership of the Council is unusually strong, including traveling men from all the neighboring villages. The occasion of the meeting today, more than anything else, was for the purpose of initiating a large class of candidates into the organization. Nearly all the members of the association living in Newark and the surrounding towns had so arranged their business that they were able to attend the meeting, and the result was that when the meeting, which was held in the lodge room of Roland Lodge, Knights of Pythias, in the Ankerle building, was called to order this afternoon at 1 o'clock by Senior Counselor D. H. Alsapach, there were more than one hundred members present, including those from Newark, Mt. Vernon and Zanesville.

Besides these there were present the grand lodge officers of Ohio as follows:

W. L. Whitaker, Columbus, Grand Senior Counselor.
R. F. Somerville, Dayton, Grand Secretary.
J. M. Moore, Zanesville, Grand Junior Counselor.
C. E. Baker, Columbus, Editor Sample Case.
The officers of Newark Council are as follows:
Senior Counselor—D. H. Alsapach.
Past Counselor—T. M. Rugg.
Junior Counselor—Harry Russell.
Conductor—George M. Roley.
Sentinel—E. L. Jones.
Page—Charles Fuller.
Secretary—J. H. Black.

Past Counselors—Charles Courtier, Pataskala; F. L. Beggs, Newark; M. P. Ashbrook, Granville; Marion Long, Newark; H. W. Denning, Granville; T. M. Rugg, Newark; Frank Cherry, Newark.

After the meeting had been called to order and the usual routine business had been transacted a class of fifteen candidates were initiated into the Council, the ceremony of initiation being performed in a most impressive manner by those having that work in charge.

After the candidates have recovered from the effects of the initiation they will be escorted to Assembly Hall, where they will meet their wives, sweethearts and sisters, and all sit down to a magnificent banquet, which will continue from 6 to 8 o'clock.

At the conclusion of the banquet dancing will be engaged in and will continue until a late hour, the music for the occasion being furnished by Marsh's orchestra.

The members of Newark Council are not only doing a good business for the firms that they represent, but they are doing more to boost Newark than any other class of men. They travel over a dozen different states, and all the time in connection with their business they are talking Newark. Nothing is too good for them at any time or place.

the city and were taken to the show at the Orpheum.

STORY OF THE ORDER.

In the light of its present splendid development and assured success, the story of the early struggles and vicissitudes of the Order of United Commercial Travelers of America adds an interesting chapter to the history of commercial travelers' organizations in America.

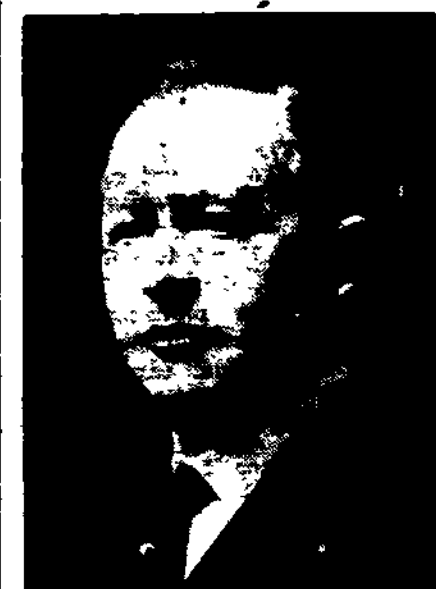

The conception and birth of this Order were brought about through a meeting of the East and West. Levi C. Pease, who was responsible for the ground plan of organization, is a native of Connecticut. John C. Fenimore, to whom was assigned the defining of the duties of the officers and the drafting of the ritual, was born in Indiana and had lived in various parts of the West and South. At one time he was engaged in store-keeping in Louisiana. Upon organization, Charles Benton Flag became the Supreme Secretary of the Order, and lent valuable assistance in working out the clerical details at this period of embryo. Indeed, the development of the Order in its early days was largely due to the indefatigable work of the first Supreme Secretary.

For over two years the germ of the idea lay fallow in the minds of the conceivers. The plan of a secret society among commercial travelers without benefits had been tried with indifferent success. Exclusively beneficial organizations for commercial travelers had, some of them, grown up, flourished and decayed. Successors to these, profiting by the sad experience of those gone before, appeared to be occupying the field to the exclusion of all new comers of whatever kind or character. The prospect was not particularly flattering.

The U. C. T. idea was something along the middle ground between the strictly fraternal orders and the strictly beneficial associations. The scheme was not quickly grasped by those to whom it was unfolded, because it seemed to possess no new features—and yet it was entirely new; so new that it was necessary to blaze a trail all the way.

It was here that the combined elements of character possessed by the pioneers in the movement came in for a rare trial of conclusions with the hard conditions presented.

Fortunately, the founders and first Supreme Secretary possessed in composite the qualities of intelligent persistence, brilliant leadership, singleness of purpose, tact, executive ability, earnestness, sincerity, optimism, far-sightedness, confidence, resource, tireless energy, good fellowship and supreme patience. All these, in about the degree necessary to the accomplishment of the giant task to which they had set themselves. A weakness at any of the above points would have meant failure. Consciously or unconsciously, the plan evolved by them was destined for a large development. It was a wide and nationalized movement from the start; it was not to be confined to any single section or grand division of the country; it was purposed that Eastern thrift and Southern chivalry should join with Northern steadfastness. WILL ATTACK LAND OWNERS

Constantinople, March 19.—Leaders of the peasantry in Thessaly who are waging a warfare against the big land owners for a division of their estate have summoned their followers to assemble under arms tomorrow and attack the landowners.

The land owners, mostly Moslems, are planning an armed resistance. They have been notified by the Turkish government, that Turkey will if necessary, invade Thessaly, with an armed force to protect Turkish subjects.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY

A practical demonstration of wireless telegraph is being given today in the Arcade windows of Stewart Bros. and Alward, by Stanley Lamp, an electrician living at 100 North Sixteenth street.

In the west display window the transmitting station has been rigged up by Mr. Lamp and in the east window the station for receiving the messages is located.

All wires are arranged in plain view and "died off" in such a manner that one can see there is no connection between the sending and receiving instruments. The demonstration is quite interesting and worth seeing.

KING EDWARD

Is Still Confined to His Room, and Much Alarm is Manifested Over His Condition.

London, March 19.—Dispatches from Biarritz today say that King Edward is better, but that he is still confined to his room. Ordinarily such a message would be considered reassuring, but in King Edward's case, it is recalled that whenever his doctors have insisted that he was recovering satisfactorily, the contrary has been the case.

Unless the king is able to leave his rooms tomorrow, the present uneasiness regarding his health will grow into actual alarm.

CHICAGO WILL HONOR PEARY

Chicago, March 19.—To show its esteem for Commander Peary and its contempt for the recent action of congress in doubting that Peary discovered the North Pole, an honorary committee consisting of 35 prominent Chicagoans today decided to give a testimonial reception here in honor of the Arctic explorer in April. Governor Deneen has promised to preside at the reception.

AMERICA TO PAY HIGH HONOR TO SHACKLETON, "ENGLAND'S PEARY"

New York, March 19.—While Great Britain and the other European countries are preparing to pay fitting honor in the near future to Robert E. Peary, American discoverer of the north pole, this country will have an opportunity of showing its appreciation of the work of Lieutenant Sir Ernest H. Shackleton, the Englishman who penetrated nearer to the south pole than any other man in the world's history. Sir Ernest is to lecture in New York City and elsewhere, and in Washington he is to receive from the hands of President Taft the gold medal of the National Geographic Society. The introducer of Shackleton to his New York audience in Carnegie Hall on the night of March 29 is to be Peary himself. The subject of the antarctic explorer's lecture is "Farthest South."

Among the other honors to be paid the explorer is the presentation of the medal of the American Geographical Society of this city. In his visit to America and Canada Shackleton will be accompanied by Lady Shackleton. He is 40 years old. On January 9, 1909, he reached 83 degrees 23 minutes south, 110 miles from the south pole.

ELSON TELEPHONE MEASURE RAPPED BY INDEPENDENTS

Columbus, O., March 19.—With a meeting of the managers of the various independent telephone exchanges in Ohio, the Ohio Independent Telephone Association yesterday afternoon closed what was said by all the delegates to have been the best convention ever held by the organization. At times it was quite stormy, but before adjournment was taken the telephone men became more closely united than ever before, both in regard to standing up against any Bell encroachment, in confidence that J. P. Morgan & Co. are not covertly against but are openly with them, and also unanimous in opposition to the enactment of the Elson bill.

Both the convention proper and the meeting of managers took occasion to rap the telephone measure, which has passed the house and is now pending in the senate and today every member of the general assembly will receive a letter urging him by the unanimous vote of the independent telephone men of the state to oppose this measure in every form in which it may come up.

At the convention it was decided to change the organization of the association so that a board of directors of 17 members shall have full charge of its affairs, all officers and the executive committee being selected by this board. Yesterday's first meeting of the newly elected board was held, but nothing was done beyond the selection of S. E. Ward of Mansfield as chairman and G. R. Johnston of Columbus as secretary. The full board will meet at the Chittenden hotel next Wednesday, when the officers of the association will be elected, and it is probable that a committee appointed to confer with F. R. Davis, president of the United States Telephone company, on a new schedule of long-distance rates, as suggested by Mr. Davis in his address before the convention Thursday afternoon.

At the conclusion of the ruling Representative Gaines moved to adjourn but was voted down by a large majority. Norris appealed to the house from the speaker's ruling. Dalvell moved to lay on the table Norris' appeal and the allies won their first victory of the day by defeating this motion, 181 to 164.

Norris then asked for the previous question to stave off further debate and his motion for the question was carried 182 to 160.

In today's balloting Representatives Johnson, Howland and Taylor, all of Ohio, voted with the insurgents for the first time.

HOUSE MAKING BLUNDERS IN FIGHT AGAINST GOVERNOR

Columbus, O., March 19.—Not until after the adjournment of the house of representatives following the leave-taking of the senate last evening until it was realized that blundering blunder in the fight against Governor Judson Harmon had taken in the lobby.

There is disagreement in order that the action of the house in taking this measure was blunder. It was a crime, Judge Charles Bowersox said. Yesterday, one of those who supported the Elson telephone merger bill, offered a joint resolution in the house of representatives in which he took the favorable attitude of calling upon the governor to furnish that body with information concerning the operations of the lobby against itself. It is quite easy to see that this might be used to put the governor in the light of a prosecuting witness and compel him to assume the burden of proof. Yet that was pending upon the calendar a solution offered by Representative Asa W. Elson, of Tiffin, was voted, the author of the telephone merger bill, demanding the appointment of a committee to investigate the charges made by the Democratic leader, Cyrus B. Winter, of Erie that he had been improperly approached by lobbyists.

had as much knowledge upon the subject as any legislative body could ask for the purposes of an inquiry.

Lima, March 19.—Rep. Howard W. Peers, Democrat of Allen county, is the member mentioned by Rep. Winter as having been offered money by a lobbyist to vote for the Elson telephone bill.

HOTEL PROPERTY SOLD.

Canal Dover, March 19.—The Herbert Hotel at this place has been sold by Christian Bernhard to John Cengalton and Charles Beer for the sum of $32,000.

COMPROMISE FOR UTILITIES BILL

Columbus, March 19.—Republicans and Democrats in the general assembly have reached a compromise in their differences over a public utilities bill. A substitute for the Woods bill is being drawn and will be introduced when the original bill comes out of committee for final reading. Woods made a sacrifice when he agreed to throw aside his bill on which he had worked for two years.

ALLIES

CANNOT AGREE WITH REGULARS ON COMPROMISE OF RULES QUESTION.

Congressional Fight is On Again, and President Taft Will Not Intercede for Uncle Joe.

Washington, March 19.—The leaders of the allies and the regulars, after a two-hour conference, announced to the house at 11 o'clock this morning that they had been unable to reach a compromise on the rules question. This means that the fight is on again. Uncle Joe's presence on the proposed rules committee was the obstacle which the conference could not remove the allies holding to their determination that he should not be a member.

The twelve insurgents who voted with the regulars late yesterday to postpone action until today were loud in proclaiming this morning that they were still under the banner of the allies.

Wires to Rochester were burdened with messages to Taft last night and this morning begging him to intervene but all answers indicate that the president intends to take the middle of the road and let each side do its own fighting.

Add Washington. Speaker Cannon this afternoon immediately after the reading of yesterday's journal, ruled the Norris resolution out of order.

The scene was most dramatic as the speaker stood pale-faced but resolute upon the marble rostrum and uttering his ruling. The galleries were packed to the doors and thousands thronged the corridors.

At the conclusion of the ruling Representative Gaines moved to adjourn but was voted down by a large majority. Norris appealed to the house from the speaker's ruling. Dalvell moved to lay on the table Norris' appeal and the allies won their first victory of the day by defeating this motion, 181 to 164.

Norris then asked for the previous question to stave off further debate and his motion for the question was carried 182 to 160.

In today's balloting Representatives Johnson, Howland and Taylor, all of Ohio, voted with the insurgents for the first time.

WILL BE REWARDED.

Lincoln, Neb., March 19.—Representative Norris of Nebraska will not go unrewarded by the folks at home for the active fight he started in congress against Speaker Cannon and the rules.

He is mentioned on every hand today as Burkett's successor in the senate. The insurgent feeling is strong in Nebraska and if he allies with out in the fight started by Norris it is a pretty safe prediction politicians say, that Norris will land in the senate in the election this winter.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS THE DEATH

Young Girl Found Dead by Father and Sister Has Disappeared

TRAGEDY AT MASSILLON

Younger Girl Was Found of Wearing Clothes of Her Older Sister.

Massillon O., March 19.—The mystery surrounding the death of Elizabeth Mantz, 19, and the simultaneous disappearance of her sister Alice, 16, with Elizabeth's clothes, is today baffling Police Chief Erie and Cassius March.

An autopsy is to be performed on the body of Elizabeth, under supervision of Coroner March in order to ascertain whether the theory of Chief Erie that Elizabeth was killed by strychnine is correct. The father of the two girls, Godfrey Mantz, working man and widower, maintaining that he is unable to explain the cause of either the death of his elder daughter or the departure of the younger one. Their brother, John Mantz, 18, tells Chief Erie that Alice had run away before with Elizabeth's clothes and had had a good time wearing them. He states that Alice "always seemed jealous of Elizabeth's clothes."

The brother says that when he went home for dinner yesterday night he started into the kitchen, but was stopped at the door by Alice. "Don't go into the kitchen," Alice told me," he related to the police. "I have to wash and I'm taking the floor in there."

The brother explained that he obeyed Alice without thinking. Alice got him his dinner, he stated, and he ate it in the dining room. Then he left home. Chief Erie later learned that Alice, with a suit case, was seen to board a car for Canton at 3:30 o'clock.

At about 5:30 o'clock the father returned home from work. He found the house dark and the back door locked. Without trying the front door, which he later found to be unfastened, he climbed in through a window. In the semi-gloom of the evening he stumbled across the body of Elizabeth. He called for Alice, but she was gone. Then he notified Chief Erie. The chief found every indication that the girl had died in convulsions. Her body was drawn up, as if by a paroxysm. So violent had been her death throes that a bone in one of her feet was broken and protruded through the flesh.

On the floor near the body was a pill box, which bore no label. Near the pill box was an empty glass, which apparently held water. On the kitchen table were writing materials and some letters.

Watseka, Ill., March 19.—Peter West, millionaire brother-in-law of Mrs. Lucy Saylor, on trial for the murder of her husband, created a sensation by suddenly appearing here this morning. He is said to be prepared to spend any part of his fortune in the defense of Mrs. Saylor. For years he showered presents upon her and at one time took her to France.

WHAT WILL MR. ROOSEVELT DO?

The friends of the Administration at Washington are filling the air with prophecies that the ex-President will no sooner land in America than he will line himself up as an enthusiastic supporter of President Taft, Ballinger and all. This will afford a unique situation, if it proves true. Roosevelt's attitude toward the Taft administration will be nothing more or less than his sober judgment of his own, after taking time to think it all over in the solitude of the African jungle. If he has concluded that his own work was in all its most striking features a big mistake, then he can logically give his hearty support to Taft. When the friends of Taft whispered it about all through the campaign that Taft was radically different in his views from Roosevelt they knew what they were talking about. There were some who even said that Mr. Roosevelt himself was well aware of this and that was just his reason for supporting Taft for the nomination. They said that he realized his own failure and that the Republican party must take another tack if it was not run on the rocks. As Taft was his personal friend, it would let him down most easily to have Taft nominated through his influence, and thus keep the people from realizing quite so plainly that Taft's real work was to correct the mistakes which he had made. What do we see today? Take the Ballinger-Pinchot matter as an illustration. Ballinger has repeatedly attacked the former administration of the Forestry bureau, under Pinchot, and indeed of the Interior Department itself under Roosevelt's cabinet minister, Secretary Garfield, as unwise and illegal, and Taft is backing Ballinger to the fullest extent of his official and personal influence, having been instrumental in calling his intimate personal friend, Attorney Verress, to Ballinger's aid. This is today one of the uppermost points in the whole Taft Administration, and yet it is clearly an exact reversal of the Roosevelt attitude, and a severe impeachment of the wisdom and legality of important specific acts of Roosevelt's most trusted subordinates done with his emphatic approval. Is Roosevelt to endorse all this? If he does, it is his own condemnation of himself. Now there was a great deal in the Roosevelt administration that he himself might well condemn, on second thought, but this is not part of it. In the matter of safeguarding the public property against selfish interests who would gobble up all the water power, timber, and mineral lands he was emphatically right. Will he now turn about and take the side of Ballinger against Pinchot, Garfield and the great majority of his fellow citizens, from one end of the land to the other? It

Influence of the Woman's Club.

By Mrs. CHARLOTTE PERKINS GILMAN, Author and Lecturer.

MAN has been discussing woman ever since humanity has been able to talk. He has written about her ever since he knew how to write. But notice the change in these days. MAN TALKS LESS ABOUT WOMAN AND MORE ABOUT WOMAN'S PLACE. That is because woman's place in the world is changing so quickly.

Until not long ago woman was treated as a FEMALE RELATIVE. She was always a daughter, wife, sister or sweetheart. The club came—the woman's club—and BROUGHT A NEW FIELD FOR WOMEN.

Hitherto the home and to a limited extent the church had been the only spheres. But in the club she was no longer a female relative. She was coming into relation with society—not that little society that dances, but the real big thing, human life.

It is true that Roosevelt has been on two sides of a good many questions in his time, but if he reverses himself on this it will be at the sacrifice of a great part of his hold on the American people. The people know that the Taft and Roosevelt administration are as wide apart as East and West, and the popularity which Roosevelt secured by his attitude on the very points in which they differ cannot be transferred to the Taft side of the fence even by Roosevelt himself. We shall believe him capable of attempting so impossible a task only when we see him actually do so.

NOT THE SAME SIZE.

Had Attorney General Denman promptly advised Governor Harmon, of the Buckeye Pipe Line company's refusal to pay excise taxes under the Cole law, Governor Harmon could have officially communicated the fact to the legislature and advised remedial legislation in his message. Instead of doing so the attorney general held back the information and made it the subject of "a legal ultimatum to the governor and the legislature," as one Republican paper put it.

That isn't the way Governor Harmon treated Attorney General Denman in bringing about official exposure of the state house graft scandals. See the difference?

The two incidents taken together give you the comparative size of the two men in these two important official positions.

RESPONSIBLE FOR TAFT.

Why should any Republican expect Roosevelt to come back from the jungle and rescue the G. O. P. elephant? The widespread claim that he is the most popular exponent of that party today is a dangerous hallucination, a delusion and a snare. There is nothing on which to base so spurious a fiction.

Instead of popularity Roosevelt ought to be the most unpopular man in the United States today, even more unpopular than Taft, or Cannon or Aldrich. For it is Roosevelt who forced the Taft administration upon the people of the United States, thereby riveting for the time being the power of Cannon and Aldrich over congress.

"Appetite Gone. Nerves Unstrung. Sleepless, Thin, Pale, Tired. Last spring my health was completely broken down. My appetite was gone and I was in unstrung nervous condition, unable to sleep. I became thin, pale and was languid and tired all the time. Hood's Sarsaparilla restored me

SHIELDING THE TARIFF.

When the food probe committee of the United States senate began its investigations the candid announcement was made that it would shield the tariff.

That is just what the food probe committee of the Ohio legislature has been doing because its chairman, Senator Williams, is the editor of a Republican paper and a defender of the "sacred tariff."

Seems to be a similarity of purpose on the part of the national as well as the state investigation of the high cost of living. Both the national and the state probe committee shy at the tariff.

That is admission enough that the "sacred tariff" is responsible for the high cost of living.

ANOTHER OBJECT LESSON

Commenting on the recent run-up on former Governor Herrick's bank at Cleveland, the Norwalk Experiment calls attention to Mr. Herrick's activity three years ago in opposing bills introduced in the legislature to guarantee bank deposits, and adds:

"Until some form of security for bank deposits is assured by legislative enactment, no inevitable run on banks will hob up somewhere, and we leave it to our readers, 'Who's to blame.'"

That is pretty well put.

ZANESVILLE TEAM MEETS WITH DEFEAT

Newark High School Debaters Were Awarded Decision on Most Interesting Subject.

One of the most interesting debates which has ever occurred in the history of the Newark High school was that of Friday evening when the second annual debate of the Central Ohio Debating league was held in Zanesville, Mt. Vernon and this city.

Newark was represented in this city by Truesdell Stevens, Quincy Cheadlin and Hugh Kirsane and at Mt. Vernon by Harold Chapman, Martha Harris-Torn and Walter Orr. Mt. Vernon and Zanesville also met in debate at the latter city.

The Auditorium of the High school was profusely decorated for the occasion, with palms, potted plants and cut flowers adorning the stage, while class robes and pennants were also conspicuous. The pillars were wrapped in the national colors with the balcony railing was covered with bunting and pennants.

Uncle Joe—That old was born to worry that elephant! Taft will go after the insurgents vigorously.—News Item.

The balcony presented a scene of beauty, for there the girls of the high school were seated to root for their favorites. All were dressed in white with red neckties and large hair ribbons of the same color, forming the class colors, red and white. Their happy, smiling countenances must have been an inspiration to the orators of the evening, which helped cheer them on to victory.

Preceding the program the various class songs and yells were indulged in. This part of the program being under the direction of Prof. T. R. Nielson and the students present certainly entered into the spirit of the occasion if the noise the made can be used as a criterion. The High school orchestra furnished most excellent music, and very materially assisted in making the affair a most enjoyable one.

At exactly 8:15 o'clock Hon. Edward Kibler, chairman of the evening, announced the articles of agreement and introduced the first speaker, Truesdell Stevens, of this city, who spoke for the negative. The question was "Shall Newark Adopt a Commission Form of Government?"

A large audience greeted the debaters, and the discussion was a most interesting one. It was an instructive lesson, not only in municipal affairs, but presented one of the most important questions in municipal government. Both teams did excellent work and the judges seemed to have no difficulty in determining the merits of the contest as their decision was unanimous in favor of the negative, the Newark High school, which was received amid the greatest enthusiasm, and the Newark team received profuse congratulations over their success.

The Newark team at Mt. Vernon, which maintained the affirmative of the question at Mt. Vernon, was defeated by a vote of two to one.

The contest reflects great credit upon the Newark High school and upon the instructors and shows a high order of intelligence and forensic ability in the young people who are striving for higher education.

The judges were Prof. Edwin W. Chubb, dean of Ohio university, Athens; ex-Prosecuting Attorney L. C. Stillwell, of Mt. Vernon, and Judge Marcus B. Evans, of the Common Pleas court, of Columbus.

Mt. Vernon also won at Zanesville, and thus carries off the honors of the debating league.

At Mt. Vernon the Newarkites were royally entertained and after the debate was over were tendered an elegant banquet by the students of Knox county's thriving capital.

WARNING

Beware of the people who offer prizes in order to sell their Pianos. If you want a Piano, go to a legitimate dealer and buy it; if you want a watch, go to your home dealers and buy one; if you want an Organ, buy it from your home dealer and not from a faker; if you want a photograph, buy it from a reliable dealer. If there is anything on earth that is disgusting, it is the faker who is always trying to deceive the public. It does not make any difference if you solve the Rebus correctly or not, you will get an insignificant prize. I believe that the good people of Newark have been humbugged so often that they will soon see that these kind of fakers should be sat down on and fired. We know who is running this kind of business, and if the business men of Newark would take hold of this kind of business we would soon get rid of them. However, it is up to the people to be on their guard and pay no attention to such methods.

BUSY SESSION OF POLICE COURT HELD BY MAYOR

On account of the pressure of business, Mayor Atherton held police court yesterday afternoon and disposed of several cases which congested the docket. The Mayor cases were among the others on the list, and as a striker at Heisey's was also up for a hearing the court room was crowded with spectators.

Oscar Kelley, a young fellow charged with visiting a resort and associating with the mob, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to the charge of his aunt to take his attorney, Linus Russell. Miss Kim was put on the stand to testify and after Kelley had told his story he was exonerated of the charge but was fined $5 and costs for visiting the house.

John Sullivan, a striker at Heisey's, charged with causing a disturbance at the plant, was next on the stand and he denied the charges made against him. Sullivan told a straight story and after a lecture he was dismissed with a warning as to his conduct in the future.

The two liquor cases were next called and the charges against Gus Kerns and Jerry Baker were read to them. Through J. Howard Jones, their attorney, both men pleaded not guilty.

Harvey Wallace, who lives near Hebron, landed in Newark Thursday, and proceeded to gather such a comfortable jag that he finally selected the smooth side of the bricks next to the City Drug store for his couch whereon to take his siesta. The sun was shining and Wallace was dreaming that the world was a joyful place to live in, when Officer Burke awoke him with several stiff jolts on the feet from his mare. He took the combined efforts of Chief Zergiebel and Officer Burke to put him in the patrol. Yesterday when he sobered up he was asked the usual question as to where he secured his booze, and he told Mayor Atherton that he got it at Kerns', South Second street. An affidavit to this effect was immediately made out which Wallace signed, and Mr. Kerns was arrested. He said he hadn't noticed Wallace in his place, but William McKinley, his assistant, said that Wallace was there but bought nothing in spite of the fact that Wallace said he bought a half pint of whiskey. Mayor Atherton continued the case until Monday at 9 o'clock at the request of Mr. Jones, who said the defense wanted to bring more witnesses into court.

Frank Baker, another drunk of Thursday, filed an affidavit against Jerry Baker charging him with selling liquor, but when brought into court from his cell he said he had made a mistake and wished to withdraw the affidavit. He was fined $5 and costs for being drunk.

In police court this morning two drunks were fined $1 and costs, and four Italians, Calvo Ello, Charles Bruno, Luchon Argon, Sam Mondo and Dominick Losonda were given small fines. The four foreigners were charged with prowling by Officer Gorman, who picked them up on the street at 3:10 this morning.

Officers Burke and Swank recovered two rings for Mrs. James Farron of Pataskala street this morning, which were supposed to have been stolen by men working at her house. The men were there Friday, and after they had some two rings, one a garnet and the other a diamond, were found to be missing from a pocketbook hanging in a closet.

Mrs. Farron suspected the men and called the police, who investigated the matter. The men protested their innocence and said that maybe the jewelry had gotten in some dirt taken from the house. A search was made and first one and then the other ring was found. The men will not be prosecuted.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—How Billy Possum Woke Up

WHEN Jack and Freddy were ready for bed they said daddy must tell them another animal tale. "All right," said daddy. "I'll tell you the tale of the possum's tale. You know a possum has no fur on his tail, but the rest of him is covered with nice warm fur. His mamma's muf."

"Well, a long time ago Billy Possum lived in a doctored tree away out in the woods. One day along came Tommy McFudge and his chum, looking for rabbits. Tommy saw Billy Possum curled up in the tree and said, 'My, but there's a mighty big rabbit!' But his chum said it wasn't a rabbit at all, but must be a big squirrel."

"The boys ran toward the tree, but Billy Possum had heard what they said, so he decided not to fool 'em. He let himself down over the limb and hung by his tail, curling it around the limb. 'They'll think I'm dead,' he said to himself, 'and they won't bother me.' So he kept very still."

"Why, it's neither a rabbit nor a squirrel, for his tail is stuck," said Tommy McFudge. "Look, he's as still as death. I do believe he's dead." "Don't fool yourself," said his chum. "A dead animal couldn't hang to a tree by his tail. He'd be sure to drop."

Tommy went up and uncured Billy Possum's tail from around the limb and started to carry him home, holding him by his tail. Billy Possum never moved. He acted just like a dead animal. After Tommy had carried him quite a spell he got tired and let his chum take the possum. The chum swung Billy around his head by the tail, and that woke Billy up.

"Here, you," said Billy Possum, "don't you handle me that way. You might hurt me."

"Well," said Tommy McFudge, "we thought you was dead and it wouldn't hurt you." But you're badly mistaken," said Billy. "I'm not dead. I was only possumin'. Be a little easier with me now."

"So they were careful with Billy after that, and they took him home and showed him to Mr. McFudge, who killed him and had Mrs. McFudge cook him with sweet potatoes for dinner next day."

"But what did he mean, daddy, by saying he was just possumin'?" asked Tommy. "Why," said Mr. McFudge, "he meant he was trying to play a trick on you."

"Now, Jack," daddy said, "you're awful sleepy, but you're trying to make me think you're wide awake. You're just possumin'! Run along to bed."

WATER CARRIED
SEWAGE AN EVIL
IS THIS CLAIM

Granville Resident Does Not Favor
the Installation of Sanitary Sewers.

(Communicated.)

The strange idea of getting rid of one evil by the substituting of another and if anything greater evil as is talked of by some in the beautiful and erstwhile healthy village of Granville.

Of late someone has been urging so-called sanitary sewers for Granville.
Whether the writer of the articles appearing in the Newark Advocate and Granville Times is a taxpayer or not I do not know, but am inclined to think not. It is strange that this should be advocated just now, when all thinking people in Europe and America look upon water carried sewage as an evil and are trying to find ways and means to purify the waters
which they by their sewage system,
have befouled. It has been the wisdom of all ages of the world to dispose of unwholesome matter by burial in the earth. Dead bodies have in all ages been buried and the greatest of all law givers and sanitarians, Moses,
gave most explicit directions that excremental matter should be treated that way. This is a not unimportant fact and although we do not follow
the whole of that law, nevertheless that law is so pregnant with marvelous wisdom that we ought not to discard any item of it without first questioning ourselves most strictly as to our reasonableness in so doing. The latest advances in science seem to show that in this particular Moses was absolutely right.

Now when putrescible matter is buried in the earth it undergoes decomposition without putrefaction, but when mixed with water it putrefies.
It certainly seems to be almost incontestable that the proper course to pursue with regard to organic refuse putrescible matter is the very reverse of that many of us do pursue. We clearly ought to encourage oxidation
and make putrefaction impossible.

It is the putrefaction of organic refuse mixed with water in sewers that long list of ailments which we ascribe to the inhalation of sewer air.
The opinion is held by many that the defecata of typhoid and cholera patients do not become dangerous to others until putrefaction has set in,
and such an acute observer as the late Dr. Murchison held the opinion that common putrefactive changes taking place in defecata were a sufficient cause of typhoid independent of the admixture of any specific poison.

Water-carried sewage is no doubt a convenience to many, but at what a fearful risk to health, besides the enormous expense.

Granville has always been healthy,
no epidemics. The real danger we are in is caused from our water closets and it is true that if cesspools increase an excrementitious matter is allowed to go into them mixed with all kinds of stuff, the time may and probably will come when epidemics
will occur, but at present the danger is local, but if you disseminate it by sewers all over the town there is no telling when, where or in how many places it will break out, and no assurance that you will not carry it directly into the village water supply.
One dike from a typhoid patient is capable of infecting an almost unlimited volume of water. Water works in Granville are not an unwholesome thing as sewers would not be thought of if they did not exist; they are,
however, a great blessing in case of fire. I understand our supply of water is quite limited, and if we have sewers we will be obliged to have new water works, as it will take at least twice the quantity of water we now use to flush sewers properly. You will therefore readily see the expense in dollars will be enormous. A great burden would be placed on the householder and also on the renter, as rents must of necessity be increased,
and surely they are high enough already, with provisions as high as they are it is very difficult for poor people to live. Besides all this you would place a burden on your posterity and no good accomplished for any one.

From this month's American Medicine, published in New York, I find:
"Federal control of stream pollution seems to be a necessity. Such an evolution of national sanitation is freely predicted, for it is said that no city should be permitted to pour its sewage even into the ocean to be a nuisance to the coast dwellers. Much less should a bay be so used. New York city has so befouled the harbor
as to have seriously injured the property and lives of its neighbors. Indeed the condition of those waters is a disgrace to civilization. Not only are the fish and other sea foods being exterminated in this and other harbors but it is now unsafe to eat raw oysters because so many of them are tattered in typhoid sewage direct from the water closets."

I have tried to show you that the mixing of putrescible matter with water is a fundamental scientific error which leads to the pollution of wells, rivers, streams, bays, lakes and all waters. Whether such methods be regarded in the modern light of bacteriology or of the evils and expenses of which they are notoriously the cause they must be condemned as unscientific, thriftless and immoral.

They are unscientific because they encourage putrefaction and hinder nitritification; they are thriftless because they merely waste or practically destroy that which rightly used
should be a source of productivity;
and they are immoral because by merely passing on one refuse to be a nuisance elsewhere than on our own premises we show a forgetfulness of our duty towards our neighbor, and we do unto others that which we are unwilling others should do unto us.

DEEDS, NOT WORDS.

Newark People Have Absolute Proof
of Deeds at Home.

John W. Lippincott, 127 N. Eleventh St., Newark, Ohio, says: "I suffered from rheumatism for a long time and often had such severe pains
across my loins that I could not move until the attack had passed off. There was a constant dull ache in the small of my back and if I moved quickly or brought any strain on the muscles of my back, I was seized with sharp, knife-like twinges throughout my body. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box at Crayton & Co.'s Drug Store and they gave me prompt relief. I was so encouraged that I continued taking this remedy until entirely free from my trouble." (From statement given Nov. 7, 1901.)

RESULTS TELL.

On Nov. 26, 1907, Mr. Lippincott said: "I cheerfully confirm my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills, as the benefit I obtained from their use has been permanent. I have never been in better health
than I am at the present time."

LABOR NOTES

When President Alsford called the Newark Trades Council to order last Sunday morning at 9 o'clock, he found a very large crowd of delegates present.

The Journal of last meeting with one slight correction was approved as read. Several communications were read and by motion received and filed.
Brother Clarence Auckerman of L.
Union No. 152 had the secretary to read a letter from Congressman Weeks of Massachusetts in regard to the two-cent rate postage.

The Majority (labor papers) popped up again through a letter received and read from Walter B. Hilton, the editor, from Wheeling, W. Va., which called forth some extended remarks from a good many delegates. The chair appointed J. H. Sherritt, secretary pro tem until the next regular meeting.

By a prevailing motion the Trades Council recommended the Iron Molders' Union 152, program committee to the Board of Trade for a permit to solicit advertisements from the business men in the Arcade buildings.

The Majority assistant editor, J. H.
Sherritt, made a long and impressive speech for the labor paper. A good many delegates made replying speci-ches. Upon the whole the discussion was perhaps too long drawn out but was somewhat interesting to the entire council.

The motion to re-endorse the Newark Majority as the Newark Trades Council's official organ, was lost.

Let me live in my house by the side

are weak, they are strong, wise, foolish—so am I, then why should I sit of the blind? Let me live in a house by the side of the road and be a friend to man.

tlement was entered.

tion to the petition.

ceptions.

ford, Geo. W. Wharton vs. J. E. Grubb, State vs. Harry Porter, motions for new trials overruled. Exceptions.

America, same vs. Southern Ins. Co., same vs. Humboldt Ins. Co., leave given

Geo. McKeever vs. Eli Hall et al., submitted to court on motion to amended answer.

John Grady vs. J. W. Hursey et al., argued and submitted on motion to strike out portion of answer.

On Monday morning the court will call the April term docket for the purpose of making an assignment of civil cases.

ANSWER FILED.

In the case of Annie J. Martin against J. Thomas Kieck and others,
the defendants have filed their answer,
in which they deny all the allegations in plaintiff's petition, and ask that the petition of plaintiff be dismissed.

ANSWER OF DEFENDANT.

In the case of Ross Joseph vs. Byron
B. Ashbrook, the defendant has filed his answer. Defendant denies that plaintiff's alleged permanent injuries were caused by any negligence, or want of skill or proper treatment on his part, but that the same were caused by plaintiff's own negligence and indiscretions. Defendant denies all the other allegations not specifically contested or admitted. Eugene Moore and Smythe & Smythe, attorneys for the defendant.

Motion to Discharge.

In the case of Melville Gillette vs.
the Pullman company, the defendant, by its attorneys, has filed a motion in the common pleas court to discharge the attachment, on the ground of the non-residence of the defendant and that the affidavit is false, in that it sets out that the cause of action arises upon contract, as much as the claim set out in the petition is not for a debt or demand arising upon contract, judgment or decree, or for cause of death or personal injury by a negligent or wrongful act, but is a claim for damages to property, claimed to arise out of the negligence of the defendant.

Will Make Repairs.

The county commissioners were out in the country Friday, looking over the situation, and found several bridges out of commission which will be repaired as soon as possible. They also found a long sink in the road at Stickle's grocery, in Mary Ann township. The contract for making the fill at this point was let to Trube Fisk.

Bound Over.

The case of the Misses Yarger against Edgar Owens came up for hearing in Justice Holton's court on Saturday morning, and the defendant was bound over to the common pleas court in the sum of $100. B.
G. Smythe represented the plaintiffs and Charles Follett the defendant, who was charged with obtaining goods under false pretenses.

Appointed Notary Public.

Constable Robert Forgrave, of Justice W. F. Holton's court, has been re-appointed Notary Public by Governor Harris. Bob's first appointment as notary public was made by Governor Harris.

Suit for Damages.

Frank L. Fowls has commenced suit in the common pleas court against Oliver P. Cook, for $5,500 damages. Plaintiff says that on Mar.
9, 1909, the defendant assaulted him
and with a large knife raised over his head threatened to kill him. For this he asks judgment in the sum of $5,500. For a second cause of action he sets up the fact that his daughter, Eva, was present, and became so frightened at the threats of the defendant that she became sick

A typographical error was made in the Great Western's half-page announcement yesterday the type making it appear that $9.90 would buy a
"new Easter store absolutely worth $15." Obviously the word "store" should have been "suit." Corrected the sentence reads, "$9.90 for a new Easter suit absolutely worth $15."
The Great Western is conducting a big sale preparatory to remodeling
the store, and very attractive prices
are offered on men's, boys' and children's clothing, hats, caps and furnishing goods. Remember $9.90 does not buy the whole store but it will buy a fine $15 suit of clothing.

The basis of the plan is the Subordinate Council, which may be found in all the principal commercial centers of the leading states of the Union, with several flourishing bodies across the border in Canada.

It is in the Subordinate Councils that the degree of the order is exemplified, no further degrees being required for advancement into the two higher bodies of the order. Building about the order's elements of Unity, Charity and Temperance, the ritualist has evolved an individual ceremony that is capable of a beautiful and an impressive explication, strongly imbued with elevating lessons and thoroughly in keeping with the order's character, aims and purposes.

The Grand Councils, to which all Subordinate Councils are attached, with the exception of those in detached and scattered territory, are twenty-five in number. Meetings of these bodies are held once a year at some city of the jurisdiction chosen by the Council in session. The Grand Council is made up of representatives from all of the Subordinate Councils in the jurisdiction. Five confidential Subordinate Councils, by their representatives, may organize a Grand Council, but no less than three Subordinate Councils can maintain one. Grand Councils fix their own basis of representation, and exercise the greatest freedom in the handling of their local and jurisdictional affairs. Only Senior Counselors, Past Counselors or Past Senior Counselors are qualified as representatives to a Grand Council.

The Grand Councils are the educational department of the order. It is from them that a constant stream of information goes out to the members; and from this source, too, is conducted the business of investigating grievances, which members may have against hotels or transportation companies. Many Grand Councils, in addition to this, conduct an information bureau, through which members of the order are brought into touch with the employers of traveling help, and assistance is given members in securing favorable positions.

The annual meetings of the Grand Councils are made the occasion of a happy reunion of United Commercial Travelers and their families. Entertaining Councils vie with each other in extending the most gracious hospitality to visiting brothers and the result is a delightful social and fraternal occasion, free from all extravagance and excess of every kind.

Right here seems a good place to say that it is expressly provided by the Constitution that "The use of limit or spirituous liquors at any meeting of a Council, or at any banquet, social, ball or other entertainment, given by or under the auspices of a Council, or in any club room conducted in the name of, or under the auspices of, this Order, is prohibited. The Supreme Counselor shall arrest the charter of any Council violating this provision."

With this regulation strictly enforced, as it is, no member need feel a hesitancy in taking to the Grand Council meetings his wife and family and mingling with the good humored and companionable crowd that is always present.

The meetings of the Supreme Council are held annually, opening on the last Wednesday in June, at the Supreme headquarters of the order in Columbus, Ohio. Grand Counselors Grand Past Counselors or Past Grand Counselors are all that are eligible as representatives to the Supreme Council. The Supreme Council is the national law-making body of the order. Its sessions are in the nature of an annual meeting of a corporation. No formal entertainment is provided for, or expected by, the delegates.

As avowed by the articles of incorporation, issued under the general corporation laws of Ohio, January 16, 1888, "The Order of United Commercial traveler, that membership in it should be highly regarded by him and that its prestige should be large among those of the craft."

The Sunday preceding the 9th day of April of each year is set aside and observed by all Councils of the Order as United Commercial Travelers' Memorial Day. In the fixing of this date for the annual memorial service, the Supreme Council sought to commemorate the unselfish life and death while in the order's service of the first Supreme Secretary Charles B. Flagg, who died on April 9, 1901. On this Memorial Sunday all brothers of the order who have "gone on before" are recalled to their friends, and the services are a tribute to the dead and an inspiration to the living.

The members assemble in "Memorial Council," and the rites of a beautiful ritualistic memorial service are observed. As the roll of honored dead is called, a beautiful white lily, fitting

The order is, in its principles, purposes and aims, uplifting, and every influence it exerts makes for the ennobling of the character of the member, both in his relation to society and to the profession to which he belongs. It teaches him that he is an honorable and useful citizen, that upon his faithfulness and loyalty rest large responsibilities in the world of business and in the complex social systems of our times. It teaches him to respect himself, to stand against excesses, to shun evil associates and to use his God-given energies for the betterment of mankind rather than in the useless and dissipation which has proven the downfall of so many of the brilliant men engaged in the selling vocation. It teaches him that in unity there is strength; that grievances and wrongs are more satisfactorily adjusted when approached by a collective force. It also teaches that collective forces should be used with judgment and moderation and that the regard should be exercised for the rights of others. A brother assumes no phase of antisocial or paternalism, but it is his duty to stand to the highest ideals and empires of the age. It is not strange, then, appealing as it does to the better side of the commercial traveler, that membership in it should be highly regarded by him and that its prestige should be large among those of the craft."

The Sunday preceding the 9th day of April of each year is set aside and observed by all Councils of the Order as United Commercial Travelers' Memorial Day. In the fixing of this date for the annual memorial service, the Supreme Council sought to commemorate the unselfish life and death while in the order's service of the first Supreme Secretary Charles B. Flagg, who died on April 9, 1901. On this Memorial Sunday all brothers of the order who have "gone on before" are recalled to their friends, and the services are a tribute to the dead and an inspiration to the living.

The members assemble in "Memorial Council," and the rites of a beautiful ritualistic memorial service are observed. As the roll of honored dead is called, a beautiful white lily, fitting symbol of the order is placed upon the altar in loving memory of each one who has "gone on before." The flowers are placed by some brother of the order, and are sometimes followed by some other. With appropriate music and a beautiful service, the memorial service is concluded.

Charles Benton Flagg, as one of the promoters of this beneficent organization, gave up the best years of his life.

In the highest sense, the fraternalism of the Order of United Commercial Travelers means the promotion and protection of each other's interests. It is an enlargement of that sentiment of the traveling salesman that makes him rather do a favor to one of the "boys" on the road than anybody on earth, and which has been felt and recognized since commercial traveling began. Sometimes, in the old days, the recipient of the favor proved unworthy; and with all the circumspection exercised in admitting men to membership, such a thing is not impossible in the ranks of the U. C. T.; but the man who wears the button of blue, white and gold can be sure when he meets another man wearing the emblem that here is a man who is thought by sober, respectable members of his own craft to be worthy of confidence. By reason of the fact that the badge of the fraternity admits the wearer to such close business and social relations, and that it is looked upon far and wide as a guarantee of character and respectability, the utmost caution is enjoined on all members of the order in admitting new men to membership. To be asked to become a member of the Order of United Commercial Travelers is a compliment to any eligible man.

THE ORDER AS A FACTOR IN SOCIAL LIFE

One of the great privations inseparably connected, of necessity, with life on the road, is the complete isolation from the family circle and from the enjoyment of those social pleasures, large and small, which compensate so greatly for the rough and tumble encounter with the world. No one realized this more than the founders of the Order of United Commercial Travelers of America. To in some measure overcome this and assist in providing the commercial exile with at least a substitute for his social circle at home, there has been encouraged from the earliest moment of this order's existence the maintaining of an active social life in all Councils. The success of the work has been most gratifying. The social session is now a feature in almost all of the Subordinate Councils, while "Ladies' Nights," "Smokers," ball parties and picnics are things of frequent occurrence. In many of the Councils a social session is held once a month. To these pleasant affairs all members of the Council are invited, together with their wives and children, if they are so blessed. The visiting member who happens to be in the city on the evening of one of these socials is entitled to participate in the enjoyment, and through his affiliation and good standing is made just as welcome as he could be in his own social circle. His membership vouches for him socially, and if he possesses the social instinct, as most commercial travelers do in a marked degree, there is nothing to prevent his entering as fully into the pastimes at hand as any of those present.

The families of commercial travelers who are compelled to make long trips are, in a way, cut off from the social life of their own city. The husband and father being always away, the zest is taken out of social pleasures and the wife stays at home, a prey to loneliness and perhaps discontentment. The Order of United Commercial Travelers of America says to such wives: "Come out and attend the socials. You will likely find a number of the ladies who are situated just like yourself. Don't make yourself a social recluse because your husband is forced to be away from home. If you have no one with whom to leave the children, bring them along. Come out and enjoy yourself. A mutual interest breeds a mutual sympathy, which is the basis of all that is best and most helpful in social intercourse.

All that is true of the Subordinate Council is true in even a greater measure of the annual meetings of the Grand Councils, mention of which has already been made. To many a hard working United Commercial Traveler the annual reunion afforded by the meeting of his Grand Council gives him the one period of the year of relaxation and enjoyment. The cost of these gatherings to the individual member is such that they may be indulged in by those most modestly situated, and the events planned for his entertainment and that of his family are those that most appeal to the active, energetic temperament of the average commercial traveler, and he returns to his territory a better man, a better salesman, and with a widened mental horizon, his wife and family enriched by a happy memory and many cherished acquaintances.

It has only been a few short years since Commercial Travelers were not admitted into the best society. They were not looked upon as eligible—not because they lacked mental qualifications—for a bright mind has always been associated with successful salesmanship—but because of a popular idea that they were not up to the social standard.

Unfortunately, this opinion was not without foundation. There was in the old-time commercial traveler a pronounced tendency toward reckless habits, unbecoming licenses in the matter of personal conduct, and a disposition to take the pace under all circumstances. All traveling salesmen were not so addicted, of course, but the tendency prevailed to such a deplorable extent that the sober and industrious were ranked in the public mind with the reckless and dissipated.

The pioneers of the Order of United Commercial Travelers of America, being commercial travelers themselves, realized this condition, and also took cognizance of the fact that, with their native men and well developed social qualities, the Traveler could, with encouragement, elevate his profession to a point where it would be looked upon instead of being regarded with grave shakes of the head by the respectable classes.

Unselfishness being one of the cardinal teachings of this order, it would be but a poor exemplification of the principle to lay claim to the entire reformation; but the order can, and rightfully does, claim credit for being a potent factor in promoting and advancing the social status of traveling men and elevating the profession of selling goods on the road to its present high standard. The profession of salesmanship is today regarded as only one step below the learned professions of the law, medicine and the priesthood. Some authorities have gone so far as to say that salesmanship is the business of the world and that the members of the selling profession therefore rank first in professional standing.
